

PUBLIC EMPLOYEES CREDIT UNION PRIVACY POLICY

FACTS

WHAT DOES PUBLIC EMPLOYEES CREDIT UNION DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Why?

Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Regulations also require us to tell you how we collect them, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

As Public Employees Credit Union, we respect the privacy of our members. We recognize the importance of maintaining the confidentiality of your personal financial information. This notice describes the privacy policy and practices followed by Public Employees Credit Union. This notice explains what types of member information we collect and under what circumstances we may share it.

What?

The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the accounts or services you have with us. This information can include:

- Name, address, Social Security number, and account balances
- Checking Account information and overdraft history
- Credit history and transaction or loan history

When you are no longer our member, we continue to share your information as permitted or required by law and as described in this notice.

How?

All financial companies need to share members' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their members' personal information. The reason Public Employees Credit Union chooses to share, and whether you can limit this sharing.

Reasons we can share your personal information	Does Public Employees Credit Union share?	Can you limit this sharing?
For our everyday business purposes—such as to process your transactions, maintain your accounts, respond to court orders and legal investigations, or report to credit bureaus	Yes	No
For our marketing purposes—to offer our products and services to you	Yes	No
For joint marketing with other financial companies	Yes	No
For our affiliates' everyday business purposes—information about your transactions and experiences	No	No
For our affiliates' everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness	No	No
For our affiliates to market to you	No	No
For non-affiliates to market to you	No	We don't share